

Where in the World?

The purple lines are all the railways in the world today. Can you name the countries that have lots of railways?

Use a map or app to find out the names of each country and write them in the boxes.

